

Graduate School of Biomedical Sciences

Ben Harris Memorial Award: The Ben Harris Memorial Fund was established to honor the memory of Benjamin Harris, Ph.D., his contributions to the University of North Texas Health Science Center, and his love for biomedical research. This award is given to a graduate Ph.D. student in the Department of Molecular Biology and Immunology who has demonstrated outstanding potential for conducting leading edge biomedical research.

Cell Biology & Anatomy Scholarship: Scholarship for doctoral students enrolled in Cell Biology and Anatomy who demonstrate personal commitment to graduate education, research, leadership experience, and personal integrity.

Rachel Dauphin Memorial Scholarship: The Rachel Dauphin Memorial Scholarship Fund honors Rachel Dauphin, a graduate student who courageously fought Hodgkin's disease. This scholarship will be offered to students seeking a degree through GSBS, shows academic achievement, and volunteerism.

GSBS Endowed Scholarship: The purpose of this scholarship is to support and provide tuition assistance for GSBS students who have demonstrated personal integrity, academic achievement, leadership potential, and their dedication to graduate education and research.

E. Bruce Street, Sr. & Roger J. Williams Endowed Scholarship: Mr. & Mrs. E. Bruce Street, Sr. established the Roger Williams Scholarship in September 1981 to honor Dr. Roger Williams. Dr. Williams was a professor emeritus of chemistry at UT Austin and was a research scientist at the Clayton Foundation Biochemical Institute, which he founded in 1940. Dr. Williams discovered pantothenic acid, known as vitamin B5, and served as the Director of the Institute until 1963. He was dedicated to educating the public and medical profession about the importance of nutrition and biochemical individuality. UNTHSC rededicated the scholarship in 2005 as the E. Bruce Street, Sr., & Roger J. Williams Award in Preventive Nutrition with the passing of Bruce Street as a former UNT Regent.

Elena & Thomas Yorio First Year Student Scholarship: The First Year Student Scholarship was rededicated in December 2007 to honor Elena & Thomas Yorio. Throughout the years, Dr. Yorio and his wife, Elena, have made outstanding contributions and a tremendous impression on the campus and students. This scholarship supports 1st year GSBS students who show leadership experience and potential, a personal commitment to graduate education, and research and personal integrity.
